BELLEVUE HAS ANGLING CLUB

A number of men from Bellevue and adjoining towns got together last week end for the purpose of organizing an effort to propagate and protect trout fishing in the district streams.

After a considerable discussion, it was decided to organize an angling club, which probably later will become affiliated with the Rod and Gun association.

This new organization, with James Fisher as secretary-treasurer, would welcome membership and ideas from anyone interested. A programme will be mapped out shortly, which will include the recommendation for closing and stocking with good fry a number of the smaller tributaries to the rivers, as well as small lakes that have suitable outlets.

The first regular meeting of the club was held at Bellevue on Monday night and was well attended.

In order to stimulate interest in the club, we would suggest that a meeting be called for the near future to be held in Blairmore or Coleman, and feel safe in saying that a considerable membership would be secured at these points.

Some form of organization is necessary to cope with the wilful destruction of our fishing that has been going on in recent years, and which the wardens and police have been unable to stop. Every member of an Angling Club or Rod and Gun Club automatically becomes a warden and would lose no time in bringing the law-breaker to justice.

HIG INDIAN CELEBRATION AT MACLEOD JULY 1 TO 3

We have received a copy of the Dominion Indian Conference and Celebration programme from Mike Mountain Horse, the secretary of the big event to be pulled off at Macleod on July 1st to 3rd, inclusive. The programme includes a great pageant, depicting the historical battle of the Whoop-Up Massacre, fought between the Bloods and Crees at Lethbridge river bottom. Also a stampede, which in every way will eclipse anything ever attempted in Canada. Interest from all over the Dominion is already being centred on Macleod for the first week in July. The whole affair is being run by Indians, who are granting only a few field concessions. Part of the rules governing the event will be that the management reserves the right to withdraw any contestant's name and entry for any of the following reasons: being under the influence of intoxicants, rowdiness, quarrelling with judges or officials, not being ready for events in which they are called, abusing stock, failing to give assistance when requested or failing to ride in grand pageant and street parades. Riders may be disqualified for being bucked off, changing hands on the rein, wrapping rein around the hand, losing stirrup, not being ready to ride when called upon to do so, pulling leather, failing to leave starting place with spurs in their shoulders, or touching horse with hand or hat.

BAPTISTS TO MEET

A meeting of Baptists will be held at the Union church on tomorrow evening, to be addressed by Messrs. Underwood and Saunders, of Calgary. Various matters of vital interest will be considered. All members and adherents of the Baptist church are asked to be present.

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING BLAIRMORE BOARD OF TRADE

The annual general meeting of the Blairmore Board of Trade will be held at the office of the Crown's Nest Pass Motors on Monday evening next at 9 o'clock.

All members and anyone else interested are asked to attend.

HIGHWAYS CONSTRUCTION TO BE GREATLY ACCELERATED

In order to take full advantage of the federal aid scheme for the development of provincial highways, the department of public works of Alberta will be compelled to carry out a much more intensive programme of highways construction than was originally planned, according to an announcement made to "The U.F.A." a few days ago by Alex. Ross, minister of public works.

The original plan called for an expenditure of approximately three and a half million dollars over a period of five years. This was contingent upon the Ottawa government extending for an additional three years the period during which the grant must be earned. The extension, however, was made for two years only, and in consequence the provincial highways programme will be concentrated within four years, inclusive of the year 1924, when the new policy was launched. Last year work was carried on throughout the province on 410 miles of highways. This year's programme calls for 310 miles, but there will be more travelling than in 1924.

The estimates for 1925 provide for a capital expenditure on highways construction in 1925 of $1,400,000, as compared with an actual expenditure in 1924 of $842,223.54. "Most of the work this season, states Mr. Ross, will be devoted to the backbone of the highways system of the province, extending from Edmonton to the international boundary in the south. The plans of construction are primarily designed to serve the people of the province. It is at the same time considered desirable that the advantages to be derived from the bringing in of people from the south of the international boundary shall not be overlooked, and that these visitors shall find in Alberta a high standard of road construction."

The highway from Cardston to Glacier Park will be practically a new road. To connect up with the Alberta system the responsible authorities south of the international boundary are building a stretch of ten miles to the Alberta border. This highway when completed will be of very high quality.

This year also there will be increased activity on the road from Coats to Lethbridge. On the road through the Crow's Nest Pass, another important feeder, considerable work was done last year, and there will be increased activity in construction this season. There will be almost a new road from Pincher Creek to the boundary.

As a result of the work to be carried on on the main roads entering the province from the south, the highways will be in keeping as to quality with the roads on the United States side of the line.—Ex.

CAPTAIN BLOOD

RAFAEL SABATINI

Copyrighted, 1922, by Rafael Sabatini

"CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Thriller picture with J. Warren Kerrigan in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

SYNOPSIS

Captain Peter Blood, buccaneer, in command of his ship, the Arabella, named after Arabella Bishop, with whom he is in love, engages two Spanish ships in battle and over-whelms them. After the fight he rescues Arabella, and Lord Wad, an emissary sent to the West Indies by King James to make peace with piracy, and makes them his guests. The sight of Arabella stirs all his love for her, but he fears his career as a pirate has blasted all hopes of winning her love.

His lordship decided to seek additional information from Miss Bishop. For this he must wait until Pitt and Wolverstone should have withdrawn. He was hardly made to wait so long for as Pitt came from the table to tell her that Miss Bishop had already departed, Miss Bishop detained him with a question.

"Mr. Pitt," she asked, "were you not one of those who escaped from Barbados with Captain Blood?"

"I was," he replied, "was one of your uncle's slaves."

"Did you ever sail with a Frenchman named Calhoun?"

"Calhoun?" Pitt laughed. The name evoked a ridiculous memory. "Aye, he was with us at Maracaibo."

"And another Frenchman named Levasseur?"

"Aye, Calhoun was Levasseur's lieutenant, until he died."

"Until he died?"

"Levasseur," he was killed on one of the Virgin Islands two years ago. "Who killed him?"

"Captain Blood killed him."

"Why?"

"They quarreled," he said shortly. "Was it about a . . . a lady?"

Miss Bishop reluctantly pursued him. "You might put it that way."

"What was the lady's name?"

"Miss O'Geron. She was the daughter of the Governor of Tortuga. She had gone off with this fellow Levasseur, and . . . and Peter delivered her out of his dirty clutches. He was a black-hearted scoundrel, and deserved what Peter gave him."

"I see. And . . . and yet Captain Blood has not married her?"

"Not yet," laughed Pitt, who knew the utter groundlessness of the common gossip. In Tortuga which she pronounced Matie, O'Geron the Captain's future wife. He paused in the doorway to impart a piece of information. "Maybe it'll comfort you to know that the Captain has altered our course for your benefit. It's his intention to put you both ashore on the coast of Jamaica, as near Port Royal as we dare venture. We've gone about, and if this wind holds we'll soon be home again, mistress."

He went out, leaving his lordship passive, those dreary blue eyes of his intensely studying Miss Bishop's face for all their dreaminess; his mind increasingly uneasy.

"He amazes me, this man," said he, in his slow, languid voice that never seemed to change its level. "I wonder he should alter his course for us in its self matter for wonder; but that he should take a risk on our behalf—that he should venture into Jamaica waters

"I see. And—and yet Captain Blood has not married her."

"Prudence?" Her voice was scornful. "What have I to do with prudence?"

"Nothing—as I perceive. But, at least, study generosity. I tell you frankly, madam, that in Blood's place I should never have been so nice. Sink me! To be sold into slavery!"

"His lordship shuddered. 'And to a damned colonial planter!' He checked abruptly. 'I beg your pardon, Miss Bishop. For the moment

"You were carried away by your heat in defence of this . . . sea robber." Miss Bishop's scorn was almost fierce.

His lordship stared at her again. Then he recollected his large, pale eyes, and tilted his head a little. "I wonder why you hate him so," he said softly.

He saw the sudden scarlet flame upon her cheeks, the heavy frown that descended upon her brow. But there was no explosion.

"Hate him? Lord! What a thought! I don't regard the fellow at all."

"Then you should, madam." His lordship spoke his thought frankly. Pitt's words regarding her. He'd been an acquisition to the King's navy. A great man, Miss Bishop. A man worth regarding."

Miss Bishop was moved to sarcasm. "You should use your influence with my Lord Sunderland to have the King offer him a commission."

His lordship laughed softly. "Faith, it's done already. I have his commission in my pocket." And he increased her amazement by a brief exposition of the circumstances. In that amazement he left her, and went in quest of Blood.

He found the Captain pacing the quarter-deck. With the amiable familiarity he used. Lord Julian slipped an arm through one of the Captain's and fell into step beside him.

"What's that?" snapped Blood. "I desire, sir, that we be friends."

"That's mighty condescending of you!"

Lord Julian ignored the obvious sarcasm.

"It's an odd coincidence that we should have been brought together in this fashion, considering that I came out to the Indies especially to seek you."

And he proceeded to explain the circumstances that had led to his coming to the Indies. "You're my guest aboard this ship," said Captain Blood, "and I still have some notion of decent behavior left me from other days, thief and pirate though I may be. So I'll not be telling you what I think of you for daring to bring me this offer, or of my Lord Sunderland—since, he, or of my kinsman—for having the impudence to send it. But it does not surprise me at all that one who is a minister of James Stuart's should consider that every man is to be seduced by bribes into betraying those who trust him."

There Was No Malta

Turkish Officer: Spent Months Looking For Port

The Turks are not, not naturally a seafaring people, and there are many good stories told of Turkish naval enterprises.

One of the best concerns an officer who was ordered to take his gunboat to Malta for some needed repairs which could not be effected in the shipyards of the Golden Horn.

He set forth, and got through the Dardanelles in "safety." To his studied his charts. But these had been folded up so long that their folds had become frayed. So he conscientiously stuck the broken pieces together, with the result that portions found themselves where they did not rightly belong. On this guidance he sailed the sea!

For months that warship trailed round the Mediterranean coast, until the gallant commander, his coal gone, his stores exhausted, had burnt up his decks and cabin fittings to keep the vessel going.

Then one day he found himself at a place he recognized as the entrance to the Dardanelles; and managed to struggle through to his home anchorage.

Whereupon, he put on his best uniform, capulet, long boots and gilt spurs and went ashore to report at the admiralty. The minister received him sympathetically, but his hero was just a bluff seaman, with no flowers of speech in his vocabulary.

"Malta Yok," was his report. (There is no Malta.) This was accepted, and the following week he was made under-secretary of the admiralty!

Seemed Like a Shortage

Old Negro Preferred to Get His Money Direct

A negro in England went to a clergyman and handed him a letter to the Lord asking him to "Please send" him poor dawdy £25 right away.

The clergyman, a kind-hearted man, felt sorry for the negro, and, calling together several of his friends, he said: "This poor fellow has so much faith in the Lord that he expects Him to send him £25 right away. We shouldn't let him be disappointed. Let's make a collection for him."

The next day the negro received a letter containing £15. He went immediately to the clergyman and wrote another letter, which ran like this:—"Uh! 'Deah Lord,—De next time you send dis dawdy money, don't sen' it through no parson—sen' it me direct."

Log Production in B.C. The big production of British Columbia for 1924 scored to a new height according to figures recently given out by the minister of lands for the province. ## Search For Origin Of Man

This Ancient Expedition Has Left Peking For Mongolia

With a caravan of 150 camels leading the way into Mongolia, the third Asiatic expedition of Roy Chapman Andrews to find "the missing link" has set out from Peking.

The scientists and technicians will leave in eight motor cars. They expect to stay at least two weeks in the van beyond Kalgan, in the Gobi Desert, and from that point westward the expedition will wander for five months.

The original object of the Asiatic expedition has already been attained; that is, sufficient evidence has been found in Mongolia to prove the theory of President Osborne, of the American Natural History Society, advanced 25 years ago, that Asia was the centre of mammalian life and distribution to other parts of the world.

The present expedition will have largely to do with the study of rock formations of later periods and with the discovery, if possible, of clues of evidence of human development and activity. Whereas many authorities believe that man first appeared somewhere in Asia, no one has yet shown that man, like the mammals, has originated in the Central Asia plateau, of which Mongolia is an important part.

Mr. Andrews hopes at the conclusion of the third expedition to be able to announce the birthplace of the missing link, or, as the expedition leader calls it, Adam's grandfather.

Predict New Era At Sea Motor Ships Will Replace Steamers

A new era at sea is predicted by Harland and Wolff, London, in their annual report which says, "the motor ship will supersede the steamship in much the same way as in the course of the last century the steamship succeeded the sailing ship."

The report adds that Harland and Wolff now have under construction three mail and passenger liners of over twenty thousand tons gross register each, and that out of twenty vessels which they now have in process of construction, thirteen are motor ships. In these latter twenty-six sets of Diesel engines are being installed as the main source of propulsion. It was the success of the German ships in getting orders for ten motor ships from a British firm a few days ago that brought to light this revolutionary change.

Promise Prince Fine

Time In South Africa

Nothing Too Good For Him To British Throne

Predicting that the Prince would have a glorious time in South Africa, J. B. Smith, the new high commissioner, said it was for the Prince to decide whether he wanted to drive a team of 16 oxen or whether he wanted to assume charge of anything else his heart could desire within South Africa.

The Dutch farmers of Cape Colony, Smith said, were vying with one another to provide the British heir with suitable horses for his use during the visit. Or, if the Prince cared to shoot lions, South Africa would provide plenty of them, or plenty of most anything in the wild animal line. If the Prince desired more feathers for his coat of arms, Commissioner Smith assured him South Africans could show their royal guests the best of their ostriches and invite him to select the choicest of their plumes.

Mrs. Margaret Phipps

—Walter's Favorite Remedy.
Chatham, Ont.—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription did me a wonderful lot of good and to women who go down in health during motherhood I would advise its use. I was very sick, especially did I suffer from "morning sickness." My stomach was so upset that I could not retain anything. I was afraid to eat. I grew nervous and weak and my back ached. I just seemed to suffer with all the ills that come to prospective mothers. I saw Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription advertised and began to take it and this medicine just kept me up fine, relieved the distressing and dizziness, and I was able to be around right up to the last. I have the greatest faith in "Favorite Prescription."—Mrs. Margaret Phipps, 125 Inches Ave. All dealers.

To Sail Around World

Weather-beaten Lifeboat Will Be Home of Intrepid Sailors
Those who happen to go down to the Battery in New York on an uncertain day in June, will probably see a weather-beaten open lifeboat, with dingy sails and a crew of five with dingy, lacking access to the harbor to New York.

It is an English lifeboat which is scheduled to start out from the Thames in May on a trip around the world, with New York its first port of call.

The vessel, which belonged until recently to the life-saving service of Great Britain, in an open craft 39 feet long with a beam of 9 feet 6 inches, it has been fitted with a wireless and also with an auxiliary engine. Its trip is expected to take two and a half years.

The skipper at the wheel is Captain George Everett Hitchens, who has been saving lives at the coastguard station at Poole, near Penzance. He says, jokingly, that he is now going to give somebody else a chance to save his life. Various reasons for the crew will be experimented with and the data submitted to the English authorities.

Innocent Pay For Guilty

Nations Suffering Under Taxation

While Germany is prosperous Mr. Wilson's aim throughout the peace conference was to reduce the German payments to the allies. "As the result, today, we have Germany 'put on her feet,' and from every visible sign prospering extraordinarily," while Britain is staggering along under a terrible load of taxation and France is finding it hard to stabilize her currency. Taxation in this country by the latest official return is $10 1/2 per head, while in Germany it is $4 1/2. The innocent nations are paying for the guilty one—London Daily Mail.

Invisible Light Aid To Medical Research

Can Also Be Utilized For Transmitting Secret Signals

Invisible light is opening up a new field for the transmission of secret signals in warfare and for the detection of chemical frauds and forgeries. Dr. Robert W. Wood, professor of experimental physics at Johns Hopkins University, asserted in Baltimore, at a public session of the American Chemical Society. Infra-red rays, the long light waves which ordinarily produce no color sensation on the eye, can be seen only by observers using field glasses equipped with a special screen similar to that in the lamp telescopes.

"The same principles are now used," he said, "in detecting forgeries and clever alterations of documents. The chemicals used in such frauds can be detected when they are illuminated by ultra violet or infra-red rays."

Professor Wood declared the use of invisible light opened up a new field for medical research, and that it might prove of value in detecting the presence of cancerous and other abdominal lesions. In cases where such conditions were not evident under ordinary light.

An Important Discovery

Tests Show That New Silver Alloy Will Not Tarnish

Untarnishable silver has been discovered at Sheffield, it was announced at a meeting of the Institute of Metals. The new alloy is 92 1/2 per cent silver, and is therefore entitled to carry the hall-mark like ordinary silver. Tests made in the presence of experts showed that where standard silver tarnished in two minutes, while the new alloy was not tarnished in five minutes, and was black in fifteen minutes, the new alloy was not tarnished after fifteen minutes. The silver was actually removed by wiping over with a leather. Ordinary silver, tested in an artificial atmosphere containing sulphur, tarnished in five minutes, while the new alloy resisted thirty times as much exposure.

Premier Greenfield Says 100,000 Tons Will Be Moved East

Twenty-five thousand tons of coal from Alberta mines to markets in Ontario, will not be all that will be moved at this spring and summer, notwithstanding the implication of a Montreal press dispatch. After that 100,000 tons will be moved east at the rate thus decided upon.

Synthetic Wood Alcohol

Germans Make Motor Fuels From Water Gas

America's $100,000,000 wood alcohol distillation industry is threatened with extinction by German chemists, it was declared at the meeting of the American Chemical Society in Baltimore.

Germans are making synthetic methanol, formerly known as wood alcohol, from water gas, and are shipping it in such quantities, it was said, as to arouse fears that the American production of methanol from hardwood will be wiped out.

Another forward step of German science was described by Dr. Franz Fischer, director of the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute at Mulheim-Ruhr, who said that a process closely related to that by which synthetic-methanol is produced is being employed to manufacture liquid motor fuels from water gas.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

STEPHEN THE FIRST MARTYR

Golden Text: Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee the crown of life.
Lesson: Acts 6:1 to 7:60.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 27:1-14.

The Text Explained and Hummed
The Arrest of Stephen. Acts 6:1-15. Jews from everywhere came on annual pilgrimages to the Holy City, and many of them stayed on there permanently. Those from certain regions were numerous enough to have their separate synagogues; among them were the Libertines, probably Jews—or their descendants—who had been taken to Italy by Pompey as slaves and had afterwards received their freedom, and been allotted a section in Rome for their residence; Cypriotes and Alexandrians—Jews from Cyprus and Alexandria in Northern Africa; and Jews of Cilicia and Asia, provinces of Asia Minor.

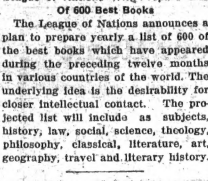

These Greek-speaking Jews hated Stephen, a man full of faith and the Holy Spirit (Acts 6:5), therefore full of grace and power, who wrought great wonders and signs among the people. They disputed with him but came off poor and ashamed; for there were no match for the wisdom and the Spirit by which he spoke. Then they had recourse to calumny. They induced men to declare that they had heard Stephen speak blasphemous words against Moses and against God. Contempt of Moses was held to be contempt of God, and an attempt to turn people from devotion to God was punishable with death according to the Jewish law.

More Beer Consumed

Fewer Breweries But More Beer In Canada Last Year

More beer and fewer breweries in Canada in 1924 is noted in the report of the department of customs for the fiscal year 1924. While the number of licensed breweries dropped from 66 to 64, the output of malt liquor last year was 44,080,490 gallons compared with 35,902,666 gallons in the previous year. Canada exported 189,993 gallons of last year's brew, leaving nearly five gallons per year per head of population for home consumption. In the same year Canadians consumed less than a quart of a gallon of hard liquor per head, that is of liquor reported and taxed by the government.

MONEY TO BURN

Every year Canadians set fire to $15,000,000, represented in the smoke from burning forests over the entire Dominion. Canadian forests and yet—set ruthlessly ablaze by Canadian hands. A startling statement surely, but still we are awakening by slow stages to consciousness of this enormous loss.

Forest organizations have been at work fighting this menace for years, with ever growing sympathy and assistance from many quarters. As yet however the vast bulk of our people are unaware of the need. Against this apathy we may set the belief of every known conservationist, that public sympathy and the co-operation of ALL thinking Canadians are necessary before we can stamp out the fire menace and curb the appalling timber losses which mount up against us year by year.

Regarding our local conditions we have in southern Alberta heavily timbered areas extending from the U.S. boundary beyond the Crows' Nest Pass and Livingstone valleys to the north for hundreds of miles. Wide green valleys of Englemann Spruce and Jack (Lodgepole) Pine stretch from the B.C. boundary eastward twenty-five or thirty miles, covering an area of over 1300 square miles in the Crows' Nest forest alone, and totalling hundreds of millions of feet of timber. The Porcupine Hills are an outlying range covered with Douglas fir and spruce stands, adjacent to the Calgary-Macleod branch of the C.P.R. and the farming lands of that region.

These timbered areas, lying between the Waterton Lakes Park and the Highwood-Livingstone divide, are afforded protection by the Ranger staff and fire-fighting forces of the Crownest National Forest, with headquarters at Pincher Creek. Aeroplane patrol daily, during dry seasons, is carried out by pilots of the Canadian Air Force station at High River. The fliers, high above the timbered slopes and valleys, keep in touch with the ground fire-fighting organization of the Forestry Branch by means of radio telephone, notifying them at once of any fires "spotted" and permitting of very rapid arrival at the point of danger. These and other means serve to keep down forest fires to a remarkable degree, but again it must be urged that the only thorough safeguard is 100 per cent care with fire in the woods. Hunters, fishermen, campers, lumbermen, or picnic parties—put out every match or cigarette butt before it is thrown away, build small safe camp fires and drown them out before you leave or break camp. These rules observed wholeheartedly by all the camping public will achieve results in prevention that no amount of fire-fighting care can equal.

BE CAREFUL WITH FIRE IN THE WOODS. PREVENT FOREST FIRES—IT PAYS.

Owing to May 24th this year falling on a Sunday, in all likelihood Victoria Day celebrations will take place on the following Monday, May 25th.

London changes fast. Twenty years ago Princes Gardens, with their spacious six-storied mansions, within a few hundred yards of Hyde Park, was a residential quarter for the rich and great. ### ESSAY COMPETITION

The Woman's Canadian Club of Calgary has arranged an essay for the young men and women of Alberta. The rules, etc., are as follows:

1. The Competition shall be open to all citizens of Alberta between the ages of 18 to 25 years who have lived in the province at least 15 years and who are born of foreign European parents.

2. Subject: Canadian Citizenship; its Privileges and Responsibilities.

3. Prizes: $110.00, divided as follows: 1st prize $50.00, 2nd $30.00, 3rd $20.00, 4th $10.00.

4. Essays to consist of approximately two thousand words, and to be written in the English language.

5. Competition to close September 1st, 1925, and the award to be made on October 10th, 1925.

The committee interprets "privileges" to include freedom of religion, freedom of speech, ownership of property, educational advantages, the right to the franchise; and "responsibilities" to include the duty of every citizen to respect our laws and institutions.

It is hoped that the competition will tend to bring about a better understanding between citizens of foreign origin and those of Anglo-Saxon blood.

The committee suggests that the competitors also make a comparison of the advantages in Canada with those of the country of origin.

The annual convention of the Alberta Women's Institutes will be held at the University of Alberta, Edmonton, on May 26, 27, 28 and 29.

Greenhill Temple, Pythian Sisters, on Friday, May 1st, intend celebrating their second anniversary with a social and dance with the members of the Knights of Pythias. The affair will be held in the Lodge Hall, commencing at 8 o'clock sharp. Visiting brothers and sisters will be welcome.

The Bellevue Hockey Club has been re-organized for the 1925-26 season. Dr. Key has been chosen president for another term. James Cardie is vice-president and Charlie Ritchie secretary-treasurer. A strong committee has been appointed to get matters lined up by May 15th, in order to qualify for Allan Cup competition.

LAGGING BEHIND

The Lethbridge jail tragedy may serve to call attention to a much broader and a much more difficult question than that of administration, a question which cannot immediately be answered by any government, which depends in the first place upon a reconsideration of our attitude towards the problem of crime and criminals.

Sigurd Ibsen, in "Human Quintessence," written almost a generation ago, revealed a number of reasons why the practical solution of sociological problems always lags behind the progress of science, and must continue to lag behind. Science is untrammelled by inherited prejudice. It has no obstacles to overcome except the limitations of reason and of the genius of man. Progress in practical sociology is limited by prejudice and unenlightened self-interest—frequently by stupidity masquerading as common sense.

Politics, of course, always lags behind science, and so also, in a different field of human activity, does conception of the proper function of what are known today as penal institutions. Great progress has been made in administrative reform, but a scientific attitude towards the treatment of social crime itself is much more tardy in development. The change, when it does come, will be inspired, not by mawkish sentimentality, but by reason, science and common sense.

There is, perhaps, no other field in which progress will prove more difficult. We have inherited a system of ideas which in their practical expression cannot quickly be changed. The will to change, however, is growing.—Alberta U.F.A. Journal.

A FLOATING GARDEN

Take a large bowl, such as bulbs often grow in. Nearly fill it with water, cut a piece of wadding so that it will fit in the bowl, put it in the water to soak. When it becomes damp, sow seeds of mustard, cress, flax or any small plant. Keep the bowl in a dark place for a few days and then put it in a light window. Soon the plants will come up and many of them will flower. Keep the bowl well supplied with water and change the water once a week. The little floating garden will brighten any room.

The Michel Football Club, holders of the Seagur, Graham, Mutt, Liphart and Cowley Cups, are anxious to know just what is doing in baseball in this district. They would like to arrange for an interchange of games this season and invite an opportunity to defend their laurels. The secretary is Mr. A. Clare.

Ed. Grove, of Lundbrock, was a Wednesday visitor to town.

Richard Coates, who has been on the sick list, is around again.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthurs, of Brooket, were Cowley visitors on Sunday.

An Easter service was held in the Anglican church on Sunday evening.

Mrs. Latta and Thomas Sheppard have returned from a Calgary visit.

Mrs. Colvin, of Calgary, is paying a visit to her mother and sisters here.

Mrs. Ben McDonald, of Pincher Creek, was a business visitor here on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith spent the Easter holidays with friends in Pincher Creek.

Mrs. Robert Day and daughter Dorothy have returned from an extended visit to England.

Mrs. Fortier and daughters have returned from Nelson, after spending a few weeks there.

Miss Rita Coates, of Calgary, has returned, after spending a few days with her parents on the ranch here.

Miss Rosamond Blackburn, of Brooket, was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Murphy over Sunday.

Mrs. James Leigh was a visitor to Lundbrock the early part of the week. She reports a splendid time on the golf links there.

While working with a hay rake, Jimmie Burles, around thirteen years of age, received several head injuries. The team took fright and ran away. He fell off, getting tangled up in the rake and was unable to free himself. He was brought in to the doctor to have the wounds sewed up and we understand is progressing favorably.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of James Gerty on Thursday. What was the chief amusement. The prizes were won as follows: Ladies' first, Mrs. M. A. Murphy; ladies' second, Mrs. G. Smith; gentlemen's first, Dick Alexander; gentlemen's second, Mr. Linville, of Blairmore. The bobbies were awarded to Mrs. C. Latta and Sandy Thompson. A dainty and tasty lunch was served, after which everyone joined in the games and dancing, which kept the crowd merry for a few hours.

The last whist drive of the season was held on Wednesday evening in the Masonic hall. A large crowd was present. The prizes were won as follows: Ladies' first, Miss Ruth Cleland (hand-painted dish); ladies' second, Mrs. Roland Easterbrook (fancy tapest); gentlemen's first, James Gerry (leather collar case); gentlemen's second, Roland Easterbrook (necktie). The bobbies were awarded to Misses Phyllis Porter and Dolle Easterbrook. Dancing was indulged in for a while after the drive. Mrs. McEwen, Mrs. George Porter, Mrs. Christie, Mrs. M. A. Murphy and Harry Hannan were on the committee for the evening.

We understand that one local "red" refused to sign the "check-off" because that document was printed locally and did not bear the union label. That individual should just remember that there is nothing on God's green earth so much abused as the union label and that it not always represents the best interests of labor. This same individual should be consistent and demand that his pay checks, bank notes, all pay currency and bills of exchange, his meal tickets, counter slips, liquor permit, etc., should bear that same union label. He should also remember that thousands of employers throughout the Dominion of Canada are paying a union scale of wages, and better, and are not compelled to do so by any union organization.

Auction Sale of Timber in The Crownset Forest Reserve

THE RIGHT TO CUT TIMBER on a tract of land to be known as Timber Sale No. 153 will be offered at public auction at a rate per thousand feet board measure at the Coleman Ranger Station, Coleman, Alberta. The sale will be held at 2 o'clock p.m. on Friday the 16th day of May, 1925.

The timber to be cut is located on the West 1/4's of the Northwest quarter of Section 51, Township 5, Range 2, 4, west of the 5th Meridian; Southwest quarter of Section 6, Township 5, Range 4, west of the 5th Meridian; Northwest 1/4 of Section 7, Township 9, Range 4, west of the 5th Meridian; and Southwest 1/4 of Section 18, Township 9, Range 4, west of the 5th Meridian.

There is estimated to be approximately 1,750,000 feet board measure of merchantable saw timber to be designated for removal from the sale area consisting of green spruce, pine and aspen. The unit price of this material is $3.00 per thousand feet board measure, and the purchaser will be allowed until May 1st, 1925, to remove the timber. Only such timber, within the area described, as may be marked or otherwise designated for removal may be cut, and all timber so designated, whether standing or fallen, must be cut and removed from the sale area. The brush and other debris resulting from the operation must be logged, piled and burned in accordance with the instructions and to the satisfaction of the Forest Officer.

Each bidder will be required to deposit with the officer conducting the sale the sum of $525 in cash or bank draft or accepted cheque made payable to the Deputy Minister of the Interior, before being allowed to bid at the sale. The sale will be awarded on the basis of the amount offered per thousand feet board measure for the saw timber on the same area. The Department does not bind itself to accept the highest or any bid. The deposit of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned to them at the close of the sale, while that of the successful bidder will be retained as a guarantee deposit to be forfeited, in case of failure to comply with the conditions of the sale or the Forest Reserve Regulations.

Full particulars and detailed regulations governing the sale may be obtained from the Forest Supervisor, Pincher Creek, Alberta, or from the District Forest Inspector, Calgary, Alberta.

J. M. ROBERTS, Secretary, Department of the Interior. [A16-23] Ottawa.

Canada's Child Immigrants

The tide of immigration is again flowing, Canadiana and prospects are that the number of incoming settlers this year will be in excess of those for any year since the outbreak of the war. It is also fairly evident that much greater care is being taken in the selection of immigrants by officers of the Department of Immigration and Colonization overseas than was formerly the case, with the result that there is a fairer chance of those actually arriving in this country making a success of their venture.

Better machinery for the placing of settlers from the British Isles and assisting them in making a real start has been created under the arrangements arrived at between the Canadian and British Governments through the medium of the Overseas Settlement Committee. There is reasonable hope, therefore, that while there may be an increase in numbers, there will be a still more striking improvement in the quality of our new settlers and in the probabilities of their success in Canada.

Especially satisfactory is the increased interest being taken both in Great Britain and in Canada in the subject of child migration and settlement in this Dominion. Last year a delegation was appointed by the British Government, on the request of the Canadian Department, to visit Canada and obtain first-hand information on this very important aspect of immigration, which delegation has made an instructive and constructive report. At the same time the Committee of the Social Service Council of Canada on Immigration and Colonization concentrated its attention last year upon the question of child and juvenile immigration, and it, too, has made a comprehensive report on the subject.

Unquestionably there is much to be said both for and against child immigration, although it is probably much easier to advance objections than it is to cite cogent reasons in support of such immigration, but the conclusions reached by both the investigating bodies have referred to appear to favor such immigration within reasonable limits, providing necessary care is taken in the matter of selection of those young immigrants, and proper supervision undertaken after their arrival in Canada, first in the matter of placement in foster homes or as apprentices, and later that they are protected and assisted until well established in Canada.

In support of child immigration there is the definite conclusion of the British delegation that the prospects for these boys and girls in Canada are better than they would have been had they remained in the United Kingdom. There is the further fact that Canada needs population, and that it is the desire of most Canadians that a preponderant number of immigrants should be of British birth. Then there is the argument that these children will more easily be adapted to Canadian ways and more readily absorbed into the life of the community than would be the case with those more advanced in years.

On the other hand it is urged that as many of these children are "Poor Law Children" who have become charges of Boards of Guardians through poverty or other failure of the home, or who have been committed to industrial schools for offences, or are orphan or "underprivileged" children, whose homes are unsatisfactory for one cause or another, they constitute a real menace to Canada as future citizens and the parents of Canadian-born children.

The responsibility for final approval of children to be emigrated to Canada rests, however, with the Canadian Government officials in England who have it in their power to reject any child recommended for emigration. It follows, therefore, that if proper inspection and examination take place and close inquiry made into the antecedents of each child, much of the danger to be apprehended from the above causes can be avoided.

Both the British and Canadian investigating bodies are unanimous in recommending against the immigration of very young children and they are agreed that only boys and girls who have reached the school-leaving age should be allowed to emigrate, except, of course, those who are accompanying their parents.

It is likewise the opinion of the Canadian investigating committee that after these children reach the age of eighteen, and are then discharged from their apprenticeship, it is still necessary that some plan of supervision, protection and helpful assistance be provided by the Department of Immigration if they are not to fall by the wayside instead of becoming happy and successful citizens, an asset rather than a liability to the Dominion.

Corn Growing Develops Greater acreage than ever will be in corn in Southern Alberta the coming season, it is reported. Last year the acreage in the southern part of the province was about 50,000 acres and it is expected this will be doubled. ## British Capital Available

Real Enterprises Will Have Plenty of Investors
"English visitors are sensible people and are unlikely to visit upon genuine Canadian enterprises their legitimate grievances in connection with Grand Trunk matters."

This is the remark of the Financial Times in connection with statements regarding Canadian mines, made by Dr. McIntosh Bell, just before his departure for Canada, which have been largely used in the British financial press. Bell and his colleagues have no enviable reputation for over-optimism, development by straight and fair financial methods.

In the course of an interview Dr. Bell gave a satisfactory account of the Kenney and Vipond developments in Ontario. He denied that Vipond had been acquiring neighboring property.

BLEMISHES OF THE SKIN

Are Proof the Blood is in a Weak and Watery Condition

One of the surest signs that the blood is out of order and the blemishes and unsightly eruptions that break out on the face or body. The same condition is indicated by an attack of eczema or scurf. You cannot get rid of these troubles by the use of surgical medicines, as so many people try to do. Purgatives merely squalor through the system and leave it still weaker. What is needed when the blood is shown to be out of order is a tonic which will restore its misshapen elements and leave the blood rich and red. For this purpose there is no other tonic can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, every dose of which helps enrich the blood, drives out impurities, and brings a new feeling of health and energy. Mrs. E. E. Babson, Hawthorne, Ave., Hamilton, Ont., tells for the benefit of others what these pills did for her. She says: "I was suffering terribly from Scurf. I doctored with several doctors, but without success. My complexion was sallow, I had no strength, feeling very weak and languid. My neck was full of lumps and scurf, and at times they were very painful. After trying several so-called blood medicines, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended to me and I got half a dozen boxes. After taking them I found a decided improvement in my appearance, and to my joy the lumps were disappearing from my neck. I persevered in the treatment and after a few more sign left of the trouble was a scar on my neck where one of the swellings had been. That is, I have been in robust health and heartily recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to any suffering from impure blood. I have since sold these pills at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

A Great Ideal

All Sectional and Prejudicial Jealousies Must Be Removed
In closing his budget address Hon. J. A. Robb said:

"The immediate future looks brighter. But to achieve our destiny we must remove all sectional, all provincial, jealousies from our hearts; we must keep faith; forget all differences of tongue and creed; remembering all ways that we enjoy a great heritage; that we are Canadians."

Asthma Cannot Last when the greatest of all asthma specifics is used. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy assuredly has this scaled title, for it has its credit thousands of cases which other preparations have failed to benefit. It brings help to even the most severe cases and brings the patient to a condition of blessed relief. Surely suffering from asthma is no less when a remedy like this is so easily secured.

Poland Is Warlike

Seeking to Intimidate Germany by a Show of Arms

Within two years Poland will be able to mobilize a larger army than the United States put into action during the war.

Forty-five divisions already have been organized among Polish reservists and the goal of the Polish general staff is 55 divisions, ready to step into uniform and shoulder rifles.

Thus the Poles seek to intimidate Germany.

General Sikorski, Polish minister of war, made these facts known in a recent edition of the Paris Matin. Sikorski complained that Poland was being kept in ignorance of Premier Herriot's security pact negotiations.

"It is our duty to prepare for every contingency," Sikorski said. "We have two exposed frontiers. We are aware that Germany is ready for instant mobilization directed against Poland."

Just now we have 45 divisions, 70 years hence we shall have, perhaps, 55 divisions, representing 4,000,000 men ready for mobilization. Our standing army numbers 200,000 men. We have a special cavalry corps and 39 battalions of infantry carrying 1,000,000 rounds of ammunition. It is necessary to demonstrate to the world that the day Poland is invaded, the nation rises to arms."

Praise For Western Universities

Eastern Observer Has Good Word to Say For Educational Facilities

Dr. C. M. Hinch, medical director of the Canadian national committee for mental hygiene, has returned to Toronto from a tour of the western provinces, in which he was accompanied by Edwin Embree, the president of the University of British Columbia. Dr. Hinch devoted much of his time to a study of the western universities and was much impressed by them.

"Canadians have reason to be proud of their state of higher education," said Dr. Hinch. "The University of British Columbia has the finest location of any university on the continent, and it has also some splendidly developed departments."

The University of Alberta, he said, was distinguished for its medical school and research activities. Dr. Hinch was also enthusiastic about the universities in Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

The hygiene movement, he said, was doing well in the west, particularly in Manitoba, where there is being evolved a splendid system of training hospital nurses in the care of mental cases.

Ex-Kaiser Is Heard From

Is Not Supporting Presidential Aspirations of Gen. Hindenburg

In one of the few direct communications to the outside world, authorized by the former German Kaiser, since his exile in Doorn, Wilhelm Hohenzollern informed the United Press that he was not supporting the presidential aspirations of General Hindenburg, and inferred that he had not retained the former field marshal from his oath of allegiance to the throne. This information came at first-hand from Colonel Kleist, acting chief of the former Kaiser's household, and it was noticeable that Wilhelm clung to his imperial title, referring to himself as "His Imperial Majesty, Hindenburg, the former Kaiser said, has not received counsel or communications from Wilhelm concerning the presidency.

The German press has published this as final, so no further communication will be forthcoming, the communication said.

London Living Space Crowded

Compressed Furniture and Bunks Installed in Newest Flats

The demand for living space in London is so acute that bunks, one above the other similar to those aboard ships which fold out of sight when not in use, have been installed in some of the newest flats in the crowded City of London, where inches have to be taken into consideration whenever any building is being done.

Another innovation in the compressed furniture line is a "six-inch" mattress, which is a very thin mattress, folding bed, washstand, chest of drawers, mirror, shoe rack, and space to place the bedding when the bed is not made up.
